

Photography, Filming & Copyright at the Festival

Dingle Lit will be taking photographs, and possibly video, at various events throughout the festival. These images will be used by Dingle Lit to share news about the festival and to publicise our next festival. Images may be used in press releases, printed publicity and published on Dingle Lit's website and social media channels.

Images will be kept indefinitely and may be used retrospectively. A person may request to withdraw their consent at any time. Email us to make the request: info@dinglelit.ie

If you would prefer for you or your child not to be included in any such photography or recordings, please speak to the official photographer or any of the festival volunteers. You can request a certain image to be deleted.

Please email the festival organisers at info@dinglelit.ie at any time.

Copyright

All presentations, debates, interviews, contributions and like events produced and presented during Dingle Lit Company events by authors, contributors and from live events shall be the copyright of Dingle Lit Company unless specifically otherwise agreed beforehand. In participating or speaking in any event organised by Dingle Lit Company, whether as a presenter, speaker, contributor or attendee, you are granting to Dingle Lit Company the copyright of the same and, without prejudice to the foregoing, the exclusive right to film, record, print, publish, broadcast, reproduce, sell, distribute, translate the same without fee or licence.

Data Protection and Children

Dingle Lit endeavours to comply with EU and national data protection legislation. This includes, but is not limited to, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Data Protection Commission's Fundamentals for a child-oriented approach to data processing 2021.

Read our full Child Safe-Guarding Statement for more details